[Faint, illegible text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page. The text is arranged in several paragraphs.]

Handwritten text in an old script, possibly Arabic or Persian, covering the right page. The text is densely packed and spans most of the page's surface.

Extremely faint and illegible handwritten text covering the left page. The characters are barely visible against the paper's background.

The first part of the document describes the general situation and the progress of the work during the last year.
 It is hoped that the results will be satisfactory and that the work will continue to progress steadily in the future.
 The second part of the document contains a detailed account of the work done during the last year, and a list of the names of the persons who have been employed during the year.
 It is hoped that this information will be useful to the committee.

The first thing I saw when I stepped out of the train was a world of strange, new people. Some were tired, some were happy, some were sad. I felt a little lost, but I knew I was here now. I looked around at the city and the people, and I felt a sense of peace. I was home.

I had heard that the city was beautiful, and it was. The streets were lined with tall buildings, and the people were friendly. I had heard that the climate was perfect, and it was.
I was here now, and I felt like I had found a new home. I was in the city of New York.
